Centennial

This classic textural weave fabric has a contemporary edge with each colour having a three yarn combination. Positioned to give an illusion of both texture and movement, Centennial has a naturally soil resistant appearance and a high abrasion result of 110,000 Martindale making it suitable for all heavy duty commercial environments. We have included a fabric softening technique in our production process that ensures a welcoming handle. Centennial is an At Work Ecological Wool and the New Zealand textile mill producing this product is Enviromark Diamond certified to ensure environmentally friendly manufacturing processes.

We have named our new product “Centennial” to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Anzac landings in Gallipoli. As a company operating in both markets we are united as we remember the thousands from both New Zealand and Australia who sadly lost their lives.
