Manila

Manila combines the high performance of vinyl with the soft appearance of textile. It's an environmentally preferable phthalate free vinyl, with a knitted cotton backing and an attractive printed design which mimics the look and texture of woven fabric. The name derives from the manila hemp plant, used traditionally to manufacture natural products such as paper and textiles, bearing a hallmark lightly textured surface effect. The colour palette is well balanced, offering 18 shades which vary between the delicate tones of nature and the brilliance of sharper brights.
